From Allan' Desk: We lawnbowlers are often faced with choices: a draw shot or a block? Forehand or backhand? Should that potentially disastrous cluster of our opponent's bowls be busted up with a break shot (so named because they serve to break one's own morale just as often as they do what they're supposed to) or should one try to draw to the jack to minimize the damage? Choices, choices, choices!

So, it should come as no surprise that before our singles tournament on Saturday, September 22, breakfast will be offered as a choice: regular pancakes (that is, extraordinarily good) or blueberry (extra-extraordinarily good, with added color), in addition to the usual choices of eggs. Put that in your pipe and smoke it. Or rather, put that in your gullet and savor it . Saturday morning, September 22, 7:30-9. Five dollars.
